It seems that stock raisers are inclined to dump their low grade stock on to markets, and save winter's feeding. This disposition is wide-spread enough to bring an excess of low grade, thin stock to our markets. There is no longer any demand for stockers worth mentioning, and low grade stockers can hardly be given away. The season is too far advanced for any demand in this line. There were no buyers of export cattle on hand at Liberty this week. For want of buyers about a dozen loads were shipped fast in first hands.

HILAND AND PENN AVENUES. A Business Man Reviews the Fire Depart-

narket next year. In regard to the East End, Mr. F. O. Van Gorder sends the following to THE DISPATCH: Heretofore Hiland avenue has been recognized as the dividing line between the business and residence portions of Penn avenue on the west side of East Liberty, but the scarcity of tusi-ness sites east of Hiland avenue has turned the attention of business men and investors to that portion of Penn avenue lying between Hiland and Negley avenues, which, without doubt, will be the center of the town in the near future. A considerable amount of property in this vicinity has already changed hands, notably the Negley property, corner of Penn and Negley avenues, to James C. Dick, and the character of the buildings now being crected clearly indicates the place which this thoroughfare will occupy as a business center.

To the Financial Editor of The Dispatch: The mild criticism of the Pittsburg Fire De-partment by "A Prominent Underwriter," an interview with whom appeared in THE DIS-PATCH this morning was timely and for the most part to the point. There is nothing of more commanding importance than the suc-cessful treatment of fires. It involves all our earthly possessions. A weak and temporizing policy by municipalities, corporations or indi-viduals, with such great interests at stake, old rates. Common grades which were in the majority were very slow, and prices were a shade lower than last week. Anything choice held up well to last week's prices, and for a few bunches of the best better prices were obtained than could be obtained a week ago. Choice lambs were not in supply equal to the demand.

Supply was large, footing up 60 loads on Monday, with nuncrous additions since. Markets were slow at lower prices than last week. Soft weather has a depressing influence on the demand for hogs and hog products.

Prices at East Liberty are little above those at Chicago for some days past. The outside for some of our leading packers reports that his advices from Chicago it-day were that the shades expected the shades of the same of than fire losses. It is cheaper.

But there is one thing which the "Prominent Underwriter" overlooked to which I desire to call attention. He seems very anxious for protection against fires. I would remind him and all others engaged in the insurance business that they have a more important duty to per-form in this matter than formulating complaints of remissness against others. No class of citizens derive greater benefits from protection than they. It is a question of money with them, and they should embrace every opportunity to co-operate with the authorities in improving the fire service. Heretotore, if I am not at fault, they have chiefly distinguished themselves in this direction by reaping the benefits of protection and allowing others to pay the cost. They collect large premiums while the rest of the community pay the taxes—double taxes, in fact, one to keep up the fire department and one to keep up the are department and one to sustain the insurance companies. This is hardly fair. There is ground for reform here. Insurance people are bound by every consideration of equity to bear their share of the burden which a fire department devolves upon the community, and until they do so they have no right to complain. To look on while the people do the work and foot the bills is unjust as well as ungenerous. They should willingly co-operate in everything to improve the fire service, and until they do this the full measure of reform needed and demanded cap-

not be secured. Pittsburg, December 11. Many men miss great fortunes because then minds are always full of big schemes. The man with his head above the clouds is generally a failure. A man must know how to utilize the common things of life if he would prosper in a material way. This is strikingly illustrated in the lives of inventors. When an inventor goes in for a big thing, like perpetual motion, for instance, he goes to the poor house, but when he puts a rubber tip on the end of a lead pencil he makes a cool $100,000. The man who knows how to handle the little opportuni-ties of life never fails to make his knowledge pay. The inventor of metal plates for soles and beels made about $6,000,000. If he had scorned such small matters, and turned his attention to steel armor for vessels, he would have wasted his time and labor. The roller skate netted its inventor$1,000,000. The inventors of various little toys, puzzles and other trifles enjoy incomes ranging as high as $75,000 Against all these successful men are arrayed a host of bright but unsuccessful inventors who spend their lives trying to accomplish who spend their lives trying to accomplish something great. It is so in every line of human endeavor. When a man wants the earth he gets nothing. When he expects to rake in a fortune in big scoops he dies in poverty. The successful men of the world fix their attention on the commonest things—the every-

The fire loss of the United States and Canda for the month of November, 1889, as estimated by the Commercial Bulletin, amounts to the large total of $50,081,000.

Since August 3, 1887, the Treasury has purchased $103,289,730 of 4 per cent bonds, and $127,177,250 of 4½ per cents, a total of $230,487,000, as a total cost of $238,487,000. These bonds would have cost at maturity $330,002,555, and a saving has thereby been effected of $254,558,829.

The McKeesport School Beard is preparing to refund its bonded debt. It has now out $48,000 in bonds drawing 5 and 6 per cent interest. The market was steady to firm throughout the day and the final changes are almost invariably in the direction of higher figures, though the important changes are few in number.

The Post says: Stocks opened moderately strong, but without much recovery from the downward reaction caused in the last 20 minutes of business yesterday by the bidding up of money to 15 per cent per annum. Of course it was known that this high rate was exceptional, and that it was made only for a small amount wanted by some belated brokers, who had failed to borrow it earlier in the day, when it could have been borrowed as from 5@7 per cent, was to be had again this afternoon at 7@8.

Nevertheless it is realized that the banks are pretty low in loanable funds, and as the end of the year approaches they will be calling in loans in order to be ready for the interests and dividend disbursements in January, and while there is no reason to expect any such pinch for money as was experienced two months or so ago, the market will work close and belated borrowers will run the risk of having to pay rates on some days.

NEW YORK, December 11.—The situation in Wall street was a little better to-day, and the news was generally of a favorable character, while London was once more a fair buyer, coming with higher prices this morning and buying orders during the day. The effect of the manipulation of money rates in the last the manipulation of money rates in the last few minutes of business yesterday was still felt, however, and the traders were cautious, and the bears looking only for weak spots, with the result of duliness in the railroad list. The Coal stocks, New England and St. Paul were the only railroad stocks which showed real animation during the day, but the Trusts were again active under the operations of the bears, who used the known developments in regard to them, in addition to a reported boycott by the labor organizations against Sugar.

Chicago Gas was more of a feature than yesterday, and was sold up and down apparently by the same parties, though its final figure was materially lower than that of last evening. Western Union and the other Gould stocks showed none of their recentamination and the fluctuations were on the same limited scale as those in the regular stocks. Only the Coalers showed any movement, and rumors of a disagreement between the Laokawanna and Reading, accompanied an attack upon those properties, which was rewarded with substantial effects in the case of the former, though the impression upon Reading was only small fractions.

WHILE pastor of the Canton Church, WHILE pastor of the Canton Church, New Jersey, some years ago, I temporarily lost my voice, and was in consequence unable to preach for nearly a year. Lastspring I began to have all the symptoms of losing it again, I labored with great difficulty, fearing each time I preached would be the last. In July I commenced using Dr. Jayne's Expectorant, at the same time rubbing my throat and chest freely with the liniment. I gargled my throat daily acliniment. I gargled my throat daily according to the directions given in Dr. Jayne's Almanac, at the same time taking the expectorant regularly. Feeling very much better, I discontinued the use of the gargle and the liniment, but still kept on with the expectorant. This winter I have been more exposed, and preach oftener than for many years past, and yet my voice seems to be growing stronger, and were it not for the requirements of my calling, I firmly believe a permanent cure would be effected by the expermanent cure would be enected by the expectorant. At all events the good it has done, and is doing me, makes me anxious to recommend it to all who are suffering from throat or lung complaints.—Rev. W. Pike, Lakeville, Washington county, N. Y.

prayer and jubilee meetings, a business session, and a "hallelujah marriage" under his appervision. The result of the business meeting was to change the name of the organization. It will hereaster be called "The Christian Crusaders." The "hallelujah wedding" ceremony was performed by General Moore. The con-
